© The Washington Post
WASHINGTON — The Mormon church trial of ERA activist Sonia Johnson, originally scheduled for Saturday morning, has been postponed, probably to Dec. 1, after a meeting between Johnson and her bishop Thursday night.
Johnson, who heads Mormons for ERA, had been summoned Wednesday night to a bishop's court "to formally consider this relationship between your church membership and your conduct during the past months." The procedure could lead to the excommunication of the fifth-generation Mormon.
Johnson said her congregation's leader, or bishop, who is both the complainant and judge in the case, has refused to put in writing the specific charges against her.
Bishop Jeffrey Willis, who is the uncle of Johnson's husband, has declined to comment on the case.
Johnson said that Willis has verbally accused her of "causing bitterness, anger and hatred against the (Mormon) church." She contends that the real reason for the trial, which she termed a "witchhunt," was her active support of the Equal Rights Amendment. The Mormon church is bitterly opposed to the amendment.

"The bishop has said we are not going to deal with ERA" in the trial, said Johnson, and now the news reports all over Salt Lake City, where the church is headquartered and where her parents live "are saying that it has nothing to do with ERA."
Because of this, she continued, "everybody is starting to wonder what awful thing I have done. They are making it something else but there isn't anything else."
Leaders of Johnson's church were unavailable for comment.
Johnson said that since word of her trial spread, she has been harassed with phone calls and telegrams, "overwhelmingly supporting me," from all over the country, from people in and out of the church.
One of the messages of encouragement she got, she said, was a phone call from Sister Laura Ann Quinonez, executive director of the Leadership Conference of Women Religious, an umbrella organization of the leaders of Roman Catholic nuns' orders.
"That was very touching," Johnson said.

Carter asks states to conserve energy

© The Washington Post
WASHINGTON — President Carter asked the nation's governors Friday to develop strong energy conservation programs in response to the crisis in Iran, but received a cool and skeptical reaction to his call for "the sharpest possible reduction" in energy use.
The president made the appeal during a White House briefing for 39 governors and other top state officials on the likely impact of the administration decision to cut off oil imports from Iran in response to the Nov. 4 takeover of the U.S. Embassy in Tehran, where Iranian students continue to hold about 100 hostages, including 70 Americans.
Energy Secretary Charles Duncan told the governors that by the end of this month the administration will have developed proposed conservation targets for each of the states. He and other officials asked the governors to consider a number of specific steps, including a 5 percent reduction in overall state government energy use, a 10 percent cut in energy consumed by state vehicles and the reimposition of odd-even and minimum purchase gasoline plans.
The governors promised to cooperate in the development of the conservation targets for their states. But several of them were openly skeptical that there will be a serious oil shortage and critical of what they called the federal government's failure to stimulate new energy production in the United States.
Following the meeting, Gov. Otis R. Bowen of Indiana, the chairman of the National Governors' Association, said, "We are ready to implement whatever emergency measures are needed... provided only that we are convinced there will be a shortfall due to Iran."
Asked if Carter had convinced him of the need for immediate conservation action, Bowen said, "No, he didn't convince me and I don't think he convinced the other governors either."

In his talk to the governors, the president sought to calm American anger directed at Iranian students in the United States.
"I hope that you will caution all Americans, as I am trying to do now, not to abuse the fine tens of thousands of Iranians who live in our country... and also to recognize that in Iran it is the radicals and the militants and the irresponsible elements there who are responsible for the tragedy which we are trying to prevent," he said.
Carter also told the governors that "there is no reason to panic" over the oil supply situation.
The governors' skepticism is based in part on the possibility that U.S. oil companies will be able to make up elsewhere for the loss of 700,000 barrels a day in Iranian oil imports. They are also aware that there are no current shortages of petroleum products in the United States, and that inventories are 3.5 percent higher than this time last year.

Spencer Kimball undergoes surgery

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Mormon Church President Spencer W. Kimball was admitted to a hospital Friday suffering from a recurrence of a blood clot on his brain.
Doctors said the 84-year-old Mormon church leader would undergo surgery at 7:30 a.m. today for removal of the subdural hematoma, a swelling filled with blood between his skull and the covering of his brain.
Kimball underwent similar surgery in September. He recovered from that operation and recently made a trip to the Holy Land.

Church spokesman Jerry Cahill said Kimball began experiencing problems Thursday and called his physicians Friday afternoon.
Cahill said Kimball was in good spirits. He said the doctors expected the religious leader to do well in surgery and to recover quickly.
"The doctors said he is in better condition now than when he was prior to his other operation," said the church spokesman.

Bolivian president picked

LA PAZ, Bolivia (UPI) — Bolivian military strongman Col. Alberto Natusch, whose bloody reign lasted a mere 16 days, was replaced as president of the country Friday by a 53-year-old woman, Mrs. Lidia Gueiler Tejada.
Mrs. Gueiler, the current president of Bolivia's congress, became the country's first woman president in 154 years of turbulent independence that has seen almost 190 military coups.
Mrs. Gueiler was named temporary president until an election is held in May of next year.
A veteran politician of the Nationalist Revolutionary Movement, Bolivia's largest political party, Mrs.

Excursion plane crashes

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (UPI) — A Nevada Airlines four plane carrying 44 persons — 41 from France — lost power shortly after takeoff from the Grand Canyon Airport and crashed in a clearing Friday, injuring five people.
Alex Garvis, an FAA regional public affairs spokesman in Los Angeles, said the plane apparently lost power in one engine.
The plane crashed in a clearing surrounding by pine trees, 1 1/2 miles northeast of the airport and caught fire, Garvis said.

Who was the 'fifth man'?

LONDON (UPI) — The case of "The Spy at Buckingham Palace" reached across the Atlantic to Washington Friday and bewildered Britons asked if the queen was aware Sir Anthony Blunt had been a Soviet agent before he joined the palace as a royal art expert.
London buzzed with virtually nothing else following Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's bombshell announcement Thursday that the 72-year-old Blunt was a self-confessed Soviet spy and the "fourth man" who helped high-level turncoats Guy Burgess and Donald Maclean defect to Russia in 1951.

Energy aid act hailed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Frank Church lauded Friday Senate approval of the Home Energy Assistance Act, which would help the elderly and poor pay the spiraling costs of energy to heat their homes in coming years.
"This bill goes a long way toward helping the senior citizens of this country who pay a higher percentage of their incomes for heating costs," Church said.
Without the bill, he said, "they would have to choose between paying for food and paying for heat."

Ailing UMW leader retires

WASHINGTON (UPI) — United Mine Workers President Arnold Miller, who ousted now-imprisoned W.A. "Tony" Boyle seven years ago, resigned Friday because of poor health, ending a turbulent reign as head of 170,000 union coal miners.
Miller turned control of the union over to Sam Church Jr., a brawling 43-year-old former mine electrician from the Virginia coalfields, whom Miller chose as his vice presidential running mate when he sought re-election in 1977.

FBI investigates bombing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The FBI Friday investigated the explosion of a mail bomb on an American Airlines jet enroute from Chicago to Washington — a new twist for terror that triggered a review of postal security procedures.
No one was injured in Thursday's incident, but passengers were forced to breathe through oxygen masks until the plane made an emergency landing at Ronald Reagan Airport in northern Virginia, near Washington.

Evans pledges support for president's effort

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gov. John V. Evans Friday vowed strict enforcement of the 55 mile an hour speed limit and other conservation measures in Idaho to cut down on oil consumption, which he said is "absolutely essential."
After attending a White House briefing on the implications of the Iranian oil boycott Friday, Evans pledged his support for President Carter and said Idahoans "will be very, very dedicated in their efforts to support the president because they want to do their share."

Evans said Carter "had to withdraw and stop importing Iranian crude" because Americans are being held hostage in the embassy in Tehran. He said he told the President about conservation measures the state has taken for the past two years, saying to help conserve petroleum by enforcing low driving speeds and encouraging carpooling.

Evans also said he will continue to seek creation of an energy department "because Americans are being held hostage in the embassy in Tehran. He said the issue of energy is so important to the people of Idaho and to the United States today. It is one of our major problems facing the whole world."
He said such a department would give the Legislature direct involvement in the state's energy policies. The current office of Energy reports directly to the governor, not the Legislature.

Democratic presidential vote altered

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Massachusetts Democrats Friday won permission from national party officials to hold a presidential primary March 4, which will make it second in the nation and a likely boon to Sen. Edward Kennedy.
The unanimous vote by the Democratic National Committee's Compliance Review Commission means Massachusetts will hold a primary voting to help conserve petroleum by enforcing low driving speeds and encouraging carpooling.

House approves military budget

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Friday approved a compromise $3.7 billion military construction bill that includes $57 million for development of the mobile MX missile.

The conference committee version of the bill now goes to the Senate, with quick approval expected.

The final bill contains $238 million more than the House version and $118 million less than the Senate originally approved.

While it includes money for the new MX missile, the appropriations bill declares there is no commitment to any particular basing system for it.

The missile is intended to operate from some sort of mobile launch system that will reduce its vulnerability to sudden attack by enemy missiles.

The Pentagon has initially adopted a "race track" system in which MX missiles would be moved around among 4,600 launch sites in remote desert areas of Utah, Nevada, Arizona or New Mexico.

Other systems — most of them less costly — are still under consideration by defense officials. The cost of the "race track" system is estimated at $33 billion, but that figure will almost certainly be much higher by the time it becomes operational in the mid-1980s.

The $57 million in the bill will be used to build test facilities for the MX at Vandenberg Air Force Base in California.

Test flights for the new missile are expected to begin in early 1983, with the system becoming operational in 1986.

Compromise on abortion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An urgently needed resolution to keep money flowing to several government agencies cleared Congress Friday after the House and Senate agreed to compromise language on federally funded abortions for poor women.

The House, faced with the choice of jettisoning government run out of money or postponing its vacation, was the first to endorse the compromise on a 455-232 vote despite opposition from anti-abortion forces.

The measure was rushed across the Capitol to the Senate, which expressed mild displeasure but passed the compromise 51-23 and sent it to the White House.

The resolution will ensure continued funding for a number of government agencies whose regular appropriations bills are still in Congress and whose funding authority would have expired Tuesday.

Congress had to approve the resolution Friday because the House plans to take a week-long Thanksgiving vacation.

Sen. Milton Young, R-N.D., said the agreement satisfied neither side of the abortion dispute but was "the best possible compromise."

"The battle is largely symbolic," said Sen. Bob Packwood, D-Ore., a leading pro-abortion spokesman. "On this issue, right-to-life has won."

To settle the dispute, House and Senate conferees ended the practice in law for more than two years — of financing abortions for poor women whose lives would suffer "severe and long-lasting permanent health damage."

The compromise language agreed to earlier by House-Senate conferees allows federally funded abortions if the woman's life is at stake or if she is a victim of rape or incest. Previously, the law has insisted on abortions only to save the woman's life.

Senate upholds oil profits tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In its first test vote on the controversial oil windfall profits tax bill, the Senate defeated an amendment to cut the general windfall tax rate from 60 percent to 50 percent.

By a 53-32 vote, the Senate defeated an amendment by Sen. David Boren, D-Okla., which Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., said was devised "to take the temperature of the Senate."

It was simply a test vote because Boren's amendment was in the House-passed windfall tax. Had it prevailed, it still would have had to be added to the Senate Finance Committee version of the windfall tax to become effective.

Both proponents and critics of the windfall tax sought the vote as a test of strength.

"The vote would give us an indication whether the Senate wants to raise more taxes or knows how to increase production," Boren said.

Dole said if the nation's oil supply is going to be increased, "We have got to stop adding, adding, and adding taxes."

But Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, who earlier criticized President Carter for having decontrolled domestic oil prices in the first place, said he did not believe lowering the general tax 10 percent would have boosted production.

Boren said approval of his amendment would have put the Senate on record as favoring lower windfall tax rates. But its defeat does not mean that conservatives will not make further efforts to reduce the windfall tax rate.

The action came as the Senate began what is expected to be a month-long debate on the $138 billion tax bill, which Sen. Russell Long has called "the largest tax increase ever levied on a single American industry."

Schlaflly condemns combat women idea

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Phyllis Schlaflly, head of "Stop ERA," Friday told Congress the women's liberation movement is crusading to allow combat duty for women soldiers to help achieve unisex goals without regard for national security.

Ms. Schlaflly joined a former Hanol prisoner, a European refugee, a psychiatrist and a retired woman general in denouncing an administration bill to repeal statutory restrictions on placing women in combat ships and planes.

She told the House Armed Services subcommittee on personnel that the feminist movement is responsible for the issuance of maternity uniforms and opening of nurseries on Army posts.

"What a way to run the armed services!" she said. "We must be the laughing stock of the world."

Ms. Schlaflly said "feminists look upon the military as a vehicle to achieve gender-free goals of the women's liberation movement — not as an instrument to defend the United States of America."

The Army has no restrictions but as a policy does not expose women to close combat. But officials said some will face close combat and possible injury, death or capture if bases they occupy are overrun by an enemy.

Pentagon officials at all service branches testified in three previous hearings that women are showing they can perform as well as men in almost all jobs.

But retired Navy Admiral Jeremiah Denton, a prisoner in Hanol for four years, said few women could survive the tortuous and enduring fighting while enemy efforts to force his cooperation.

"Of course women can fight," Denton said. "But God, history, common decency and common sense cry out that they should not be committed like men to mortal combat."

A woman spectator wept as Denton told of being bound night and day in irons that could be made to cut into his flesh during torture sessions.

Retired General Elizabeth Holington, former director of the Women's Army Corps, testified that women could be trained in weeks to "stand up and fight" in an invading force but said they otherwise have no place in combat duty.

Rep. Marjorie Holt, R-Md., asked the witness if she would endorse training an all-woman combat task force as an experiment.

"I would hate to be to the right or left of them or behind them because I don't think they'd make it," Ms. Holington said.

Retired Admiral Harold M. Voth, a psychiatrist, said the presence of women would destroy the vital esprit d'corps men need to survive in combat.

Airlines fined for maintenance lapses

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Aviation Administration Friday fined American Airlines $500,000 and Continental Airlines $100,000 for using faulty maintenance procedures on the DC-10 jetliner.

The agency said the two airlines used a special forklift device to remove and reinstall the DC-10 engine pylons, assemblies that hold the engines, instead of following the recommended procedure of removing and reinstalling each unit separately.

The agency said the one-step procedure had the "potential for inflicting damage to the wing-pylon attachment and related structure during either the removal or installation process."

The FAA noted the procedures approved by the FAA for the assembly of five American and four Continental DC-10s.

To replace Juanita Kreps

Carter picks Chicago financier to head Commerce Department

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Carter Friday nominated Philip M. Klutznick, Chicago financier and president of the World Jewish Congress, to be secretary of commerce.

Klutznick, 72, will succeed Juanita Kreps, who resigned the Cabinet post Nov. 1.

Klutznick is former president of B'nai B'rith and is a prominent Jewish fundraiser. He also is chairman of the executive committee of Urban Investment and Development Co., a subsidiary of Aetna Life and Casualty Co.

White House press secretary Jody Powell told reporters that Klutznick, who served as U.S. representative to the U.N. Economic and Social Council and also in the Roosevelt and Truman administrations, "has a great deal of experience in international trade and economic development."

At the same time, Powell announced that Carter is nominating Luther Hodges Jr., to be deputy secretary in the new Department of Commerce and Trade when a reorganization plan takes effect.

Hodges, whose father was secretary of commerce under John Kennedy, is currently undersecretary of commerce and will need to be reconfirmed by the Senate.

Klutznick met with Carter Thursday to discuss the Cabinet appointment. He said Klutznick's name was "one that surfaced from a number of sources" in business and trade.

As for Klutznick's age, Powell said, "Everyone who knows him knows he's a very active 72 and remains actively involved."

Asked whether Klutznick was selected to offset Chicago Mayor Jane Byrne's endorsement of Sen. Edward Kennedy for president, Powell replied, "Recent events in Chicago leave some feeling that a fair amount of blunting is going on."

Powell apparently referred to fights among Chicago Democrats over Mayor Byrne's decision to endorse Kennedy.

Klutznick, a Chicago attorney, serves on the boards of the Urban Investment and Development Co., the Mortgage Guarantee Insurance Co. of Milwaukee, the First Mark Corp., the Continental Foreign Trade Bank of Geneva and the National Bureau for Economic Research.

His holdings would be subject to scrutiny during Senate confirmation hearings on his nomination.

In addition, Klutznick is director of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry.

Bank ups prime again

NEW YORK (UPI) — The prime lending rate for corporate loans reached a record 15 1/2 percent Friday as major banks hesitated and then decided to follow the quarter-point increase first announced by Citibank.

The higher prime rate eventually will translate into another boost in interest rates for consumers while making credit still harder to find at any price.

The meteoric rise in the prime from 14 1/2 percent since last July attracted renewed criticism from Rep. Henry Reuss, D-Wisc., chairman of House Banking Committee, who called the latest increase "completely unjustified."

"The banks are simply profiteering by these continuing hikes in the prime rate above what the Fed's monetary policy calls for," Reuss said in Washington.

Citibank, the nation's second largest, said it was acting with restraint in raising its prime to 15 1/2 percent since the rate-setting formula it uses, based on the cost of funds to the bank, actually calls for a move to 16 percent.

Other major banks waited nearly two hours before matching Citibank's higher prime. The prime rate applies directly only to short-term loans made to the most-creditworthy corporations.

Fifth-ranked Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. said its move reflected "the sharp increase in reserves experienced in loan demand and in the cost of funds."

This contrasted with a report by the Federal Reserve that money market rates inched lower in the week ended Wednesday and that loans made by big New York city banks declined modestly.

What's what

Trade associations top spenders at conventions

Who tend to be the biggest spenders when they gather at a convention? That's what a client asks. Trade association members merit that distinction. Pretty free with the dollar, they. Poorest spenders at conventions—for reasons not at all mysterious—are school teachers. Religious groups would be even poorer spenders, except they make up in numbers what they lack in individual cash. So many Jehovah's Witnesses showed up at a New York City get-together once that their cooks had to make their tossed salad in a concrete mixer.

Penn State animal experts think the polar bear may be evolving into a sea bear like the whale. Why they so believe is curious. They've found the polar bear doesn't kick with its hind legs, as other land mammals do, when it swims. It handles its lower extremities in the water more like fins than feet.

BEER
Q. Where is the place that mothers feed their infants beer instead of milk?
A. Know of no such place where that's a regular practice. It's that mothers in France kept their babies alive on beer during World War II after the Nazis confiscated all the milk in that country's dairy regions. But those mothers didn't think much of it.

Q. Benedict Arnold was an American general who turned traitor. John Andre was a British major just doing his duty in communicating with Arnold. I know Arnold escaped and lived out his life in London. What happened to Andre?
A. He was caught by the Americans—which is how they found out about Arnold's treason—and hanged as a spy.

BETTY
Am asked the origin of the nickname Betty. There's a tale about that, too: A young man's drinking club at Oxford 200 years ago used to get together on Saturday nights. Each man drank as many glasses of liquor—chugals—as there were letters in his girlfriend's name. But one young fellow with a girl called Elizabeth couldn't handle it. So the boys agreed to nickname her Betty so he could keep up. Shrug.

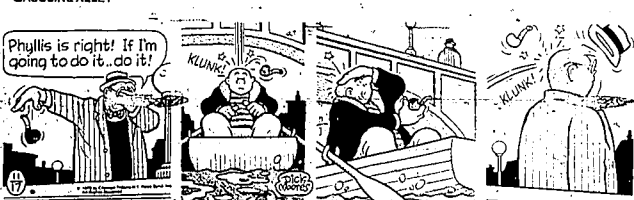

What's unique about the Panama Canal is not its width, depth or length, but the fact that it's the only one that links two oceans.

Was a time in old Egypt when all the citizens from early childhood on went around with their heads shaved.

Black Christian leaders end meet

DETROIT (UPI) — Pastors representing 15 million blacks concluded a national conference Friday by pledging to examine presidential candidates "from head to toe" and mobilize parishioners on political and social issues.

Spokesmen for the more than 500 pastors representing every denomination of black Christians also promised to help organize a drive to register millions of new black voters by the 1980 general election.

"We intend to make every church structure a voter registration headquarters," said the Rev. Dr. William Augustus Jones Jr., who chaired the five-day National Black Pastors Conference. "We're serious about this."

Some 1,200 people gathered for the conference, which featured such black leaders as NAACP head Benjamin Hooks, National Urban League President Vernon Jordan, the Rev. Jesse Jackson and former U.N. Ambassador Andrew Young.

Jones said the conference will become a "permanent fixture on the American landscape." The pastors, who "answer only to God and the people we serve," would place no limits on their concerns, he said.

Jones said the pastors were not ready to endorse a presidential candidate at this time because most of current candidates "look essentially the same."

"We are faced with a no-choice situation," he said. "It will be our task to carefully scrutinize all of the candidates that present themselves for our consideration," Jones said. "We will examine them from head to toe."

Confusion bogs Wall Street

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market fell Friday in confusion over rising interest rates, oil prices and the fate of the dollar.

Trading was moderate.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, 1979-point winner Thursday, lost 5.53 points to 815.70. The Dow gained 9.22 points for the week, however.

The New York Stock Exchange index surrendered 0.16 to 59.11 and the price of a share shot 8 cents. Declines topped advances, 877 to 559, among the 1,857 issues traded at 4 p.m. EST.

Despite criticism from Rep. Henry Hyde, House Banking committee chairman, freer trading, Citibank raised its prime lending rate—a quarter point to 15 percent and most other major banks followed. This sparked some selling.

Citibank noted its formula called for a 10 percent rate. This news and the Federal Reserve's report late Thursday of a $3 billion money supply surge dashed investor hopes that interest rates were near a peak.

Big Board volume totaled 30,000,000 shares, compared with 32,380,000 traded Thursday.

Composite volume of NYSE issues listed on the 15 exchanges and over the counter at 4 p.m. totaled 453,388 shares, compared with 34,687,208 Thursday.

The American Stock Exchange index ended 0.02 to 218.16. There was no change in the price of a share. The National Association of Securities Dealers' NASDAQ composite OTC index gained 0.15 to 137.07.

At 4 p.m., oil issues dominated Big Board activity. Occidental Petroleum, the most active NYSE-listed issue, up 1/4 to 26 1/2. Other oil issues generally were strong in light of the gains in Iran. Sun Co. climbed 2 1/2 to 67 1/2. Cities Service to 83, Getty 1 1/4 to 72 and Southern Pacific 1 1/4 to 32 1/2.

Kelker steps down from county planning position

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES

Times-News writer
TWIN FALLS, O.A. (Gus) Kelker has submitted his resignation from the Twin Falls County Planning and Zoning Commission after an 11-month term.

In a letter to the board of county commissioners Friday, Kelker said he is resigning because he will be too busy in the coming months to do the job justice.

Kelker and his wife, Betty, man the Twin Falls office of U.S. Congressman George Hansen.

The zoning board member said his resignation is not influenced by his agreement with commissioners and other board members over impact areas for cities in Twin Falls County. He has been urging the impact areas as agreed on by city and county officials be abandoned for the present and efforts be made to bring about better state legislation governing impact zones and growth of urban areas into rural zones.

He informed the commissioners he has enjoyed working with them and with other zoning board members and the staff. He said since being appointed 11 months ago, he has not missed a single meeting of the commission, either regular or special.

"I believe if a person is going to accept an appointment of this nature, he or she should be willing to work at it and to devote the necessary time. Because I will be extremely busy during the coming months, I will not be able to do this and feel I must resign," Kelker wrote.

Commissioners received the letter Friday afternoon and had not acted on it, but it is expected to be accepted and a replacement appointed as soon as possible.

Skiflation appeal rejected

By BONNIE BAIRD JONES

Times-News writer
TWIN FALLS — Sun Valley's lift ticket rates, including the $16 day pass price, have been upheld by the regional office of the U. S. Forest Service.

Sawtooth National Forest Supervisor Paul Barker earlier approved the resort's proposed pricing for the 1979-80 season, and his action has been upheld by the regional authorities.

Members of the Skiflation Committee, headquartered in Sun Valley, say they were not too surprised by the move, but they intend to continue to fight the "excessive" pricing.

Stanford Roos of Ketchum, a member of the Skiflation Committee, said Friday there is one more step in the appeal process.

"We intend to go to Washington (D. C.). We will appeal the regional decision to the Chief of the Forest Service in Washington. We have no choice but to work through the Forest Service ranks until we have exhausted every level of authority," Roos said.

Roos said the Idaho ticket reductions help skiers in the Gem state, but the committee is objecting to the general high cost of skiing at Sun Valley. He said every ski resort but Sun Valley and Aspen offer season passes at a rate most families can afford. At Sun Valley, he said the season pass is $600.

Deputy Regional Forester Jeff

Sirmon announced the regional decision Friday. Forest Supervisor Barker has followed appropriate procedure in evaluating and approving Sun Valley ski lift pricing for the coming season," Sirmon said.

Sirmon's decision was made after the appeal of Skiflation to the regional office earlier this fall. The Ketchum residents opposed the price increase at Sun Valley and the method used by the Forest Service to judge the reasonableness of ski area price increases.

A lift ticket at Sun Valley for Bald Mountain ski runs is $16 a day, up from $15 last year. Individuals purchasing a $25 Idaho ticket can ski on weekends for $9.50 for an all day pass. This is also an increase of $1 over last year.

Under the terms of President Carter's anti-inflation program, price increases are not to exceed 9.5 percent. Sun Valley's increase this year is 8.89 percent when averaging all of the increases for various types of ski passes.

Bald Mountain is on National Forest land and is operated by Sun Valley Ski Resort under terms of a land use permit issued by the Forest Service.

The Forest Service reviews and approves or rejects price increases proposed by resorts operating on forest land.

After the regional decision announced Friday, Skiflation has 30 days in which to appeal to the Chief of the Forest Service in Washington, D.C.

Sugar beet payments up

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley sugar beet growers got their first crop payments from the Amalgamated Sugar Co. on Thursday.

The payments, which averaged about 8 percent above last year's initial payments, are for beets harvested by the end of October. Additional payments, for beets harvested since October, will be made every 15 days.

These payments are intended to amount to about 90 percent of the total

a grower will be paid for his beets. (The price a grower gets is in part determined by what the sugar company gets for the sugar when it is sold to markets.)

The amount a grower receives also depends on the sugar content of his beets. According to an Amalgamated spokesman, beets with 16 percent sugar content bring a grower $25.55 a ton. Beets with 15.5 percent bring $24.93, and beets with 16.5 bring $26.98.

Sheep, condos discussed

SUN VALLEY — Elkhorn developers headed off a law suit over grazing rights in a last minute decision to meet with the Flat Top Sheep Co. in land easement discussions Friday.

The sheep company, headed by rancher John Peavey, is protesting the June Day subdivision in Elkhorn which intrudes on natural elk migration and sheep paths.

The Sun Valley City Council had refused to approve the final plat of the subdivision, until developers and Peavey could meet. According to attorney Jim Phillips, the unwillingness of the developers to work out a mutual agreement forced the sheep company to consider court action to gain access to the traditional easement.

Within the last several days, however, the Elkhorn developers have indicated a greater interest in conceding land for the easement. The two parties met late Friday in closed sessions. After the City Council meeting Monday, the Flat Top Sheep Co. will decide if court action is warranted.

Batt proposes amendments

By DAVID MORRISSEY

Times-News writer
BOISE — Idahoans may soon be deciding whether governors should be required to be from the same political party as lieutenant governors, and whether both should be allowed to serve only two terms in office.

Friday Lt. Gov. Phil Batt told the Times-News he will urge the 1980 Legislature to place the two proposals, both of which will require amendments to Idaho's constitution, on the next general election ballot.

Batt, a Republican, now serves under Gov. John Evans, a Democrat. He gained his post last year by defeating incumbent Democratic Lt. Gov. William Murphy.

The difference in parties has been a source of controversy in Idaho government.

While the role of lieutenant governor, much like the role of vice president, is traditionally restricted, state chief executives of one party are even more hesitant about giving too much power to a potential rival.

Evans, in one recent interview, openly acknowledged the problem. While praising Batt as a man of integrity, the governor said the difference in parties restricted their ability to work together.

Batt's proposal isn't new. It's been suggested in Idaho two times before and each time overwhelmingly rejected.

In 1970, a proposed constitutional amendment seeking this change received support from just 34 percent of those voting. Two years later only 36 percent of those voting supported the change.

Batt's second proposed constitutional amendment would restrict Idaho's governor to two four-year terms. Presently holders of either office can seek an unlimited number of terms.

Range men honor McClure

TWIN FALLS — Idaho Sen. James McClure received an award Friday night for his work on legislation to limit the U.S. Bureau of Land Management's authority to cut grazing allotments on public lands.

The award was presented by the Idaho Section of the Society for Range Management at a dinner on the first day of its winter meeting here. The society includes ranchers, government administrators, scientists, students and businessmen.

Carter action supported

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls Democrats Thursday voiced their approval of President Carter's Iranian oil cut-off and fund freeze.

During their monthly central committee meeting, county Democrats voted to send a telegram of support to the president. "It says we're fully in support of his decisions on the Iranian situation," said County Chairman Marge Slatten.

Also at the meeting, it was announced that there would be a party for Democrats supporting President Carter's reelection. The party will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 4, at the Twin Falls home of Marge Summerfield. The party will be held in conjunction with similar parties held for Carter across the nation that night. The informal gathering is being organized by Dorothy Chapman, also of Twin Falls. No admission charge will be collected but donations will be accepted.

Jerome police chief resigns

By RAY SULLIVAN

Times-News writer
Jerome, Idaho — Police Chief Howard DuBois is retiring Feb. 28, 1980, the Jerome City Council announced Friday afternoon.

A release issued by the Council after an hour-long closed door session Friday did not discuss DuBois' resignation after almost eight years on the force.

The council statement reads: "The City Council and Mayor of Jerome today expressed their intention to recommend to the new City Council to hire a new police chief to replace Chief DuBois who is retiring on February 28, 1980."

"Machinery will be established in the immediate future to begin the process of selecting a new Chief of Police to commence employment March 1, 1980. On behalf of the people of Jerome, the Mayor and Council wish to express their gratitude to Howard DuBois for the many years of dedicated service he has rendered to the City."

Mayor Marshall Everhart referred only to unexplained personnel matters in the police department as the reason for holding the special meeting.

He said the council would not publicize those matters and angrily rebuffed DuBois' offer to "go over" his resignation on Friday's meeting. "A cheap shot" because it talked about possible reasons for the meeting and what was behind it.

The Times-News reported Thursday that DuBois' hiring of Harvey Hines to fill a vacancy had been questioned by the Council because Hines already has a brother and brother-in-law on the force. DuBois stated some officers may have feared he would show favoritism to the related policemen and went to the Council.

Asked specifically Friday whether that hiring had anything to do with DuBois' retirement, Everhart refused to confirm or deny it. "I am making no comment," he stated.

DuBois, who was appointed chief on Feb. 1, 1972, said afterward he has been thinking of retiring for two years and has discussed that possibility with the Council. He said he might have announced his retirement sooner if the Hines hiring controversy had not surfaced.

The 62-year-old chief commented after Friday's meeting that during the meeting the Council mentioned complaints it had received from residents that officers were not responding to calls, "but they did not come to me with them."

"I realize (Councilman) DuBois' hiring of Harvey Hines was a firing of a firing," DuBois admitted, but he said that incident alone didn't seem enough to "irritate" a council inquiry into department personnel matters.

DuBois said he doesn't know if some of his officers had gone behind his back and complained directly to councilmen about his leadership or if a resident had complained.

He said he would hold a regular monthly meeting Monday at 7 a.m. at police headquarters in the Jerome County Courthouse basement, and officers could speak up then if they wished. Queries about problems in the past have received no response, he explained.

"If I'm the problem, maybe it will give 'em the courage to bring it up and say what the hell they've got on their minds," he said quietly.

When asked, DuBois said he held no animosity toward his eight-man force. "But if they've gone behind my back... he said his voice trailing off.

DuBois said he was at a loss to think of who in the community might be upset at his performance. "I can think only of one or two incidents really in the last eight years that someone might go after me in an underhanded, vicious way."

DuBois said councilman and police commissioner Glenn Capps will be at Monday's meeting.

Capps said he was confident any personnel matters within the department could be "corrected in the future."

Of DuBois he said, "I think he's one of the best qualified men in this valley for his job."

Everhart said the Council will be announcing its search for a new chief and would screen all applicants down to "two, three or four" finalists. No timetable has been established except to have DuBois' successor hired by the time he retires.

Asked if community members would help screen candidates, Everhart said that the Council alone has done the hiring in the past because it has been hard to get community members to participate. He added that he would be glad to hear from anyone who would like to become involved in the process, however.

Capps said candidates for DuBois' job will be thoroughly investigated before being hired to avoid problems of some cities that haven't done complete background checks first and then run into problems.

DuBois retired after 17 years on the Jerome (alt.) County Sheriff's Department, where he was an inspector detective, before moving to Jerome in 1970.

Police

Policemen's ball set

TWIN FALLS — Policemen in Twin Falls are handing out tickets, but not the variety that will land the recipients in court.

The annual Policemen's dance will be held Nov. 23 at 9 p.m. in the National Guard Armory.

It is open to the public, and tickets will also be available at the door prior to the dance.

Music will be furnished by Bruce Thomason and the Rondevoos.

The dance is being held to help expand the policemen's benefit fund to assist police of fleets and their families in the event of serious injury, illness or other misfortune. Tickets are $2 each including tax.

Door disappears

TWIN FALLS — O.K. Swenson reported the theft of a business building glass door this week.

He told police the full glass door for the rear entrance of a business house was in his pickup truck when his granddaughter drove it to the Blue Lakes Shopping Center.

While she was shopping, someone unloaded the door from the rear of the pickup and made off with it. Police weren't sure what type of thief would need a business building front door, but apparently someone had plans for it.

Swenson said the door was valued at $300.

Jim Swenson, who lives at 592 South Locust, told police someone broke into a camper on his pickup and took a 7mm rifle and scope valued at $610. He said the camper had been left unlocked and the rifle was inside of a sleeping bag on the bed. He said the theft apparently occurred Nov. 10 or 11.

Driving charge made

TWIN FALLS — Billy Gene Crisp, 22, of Twin Falls, was charged with reckless driving following an accident Thursday afternoon on Kimberly Road.

City police said Crisp's small pickup truck was traveling west at a high rate of speed when it caught up with another westbound vehicle driven by Jamie Don Gornik of Hansen.

Gornik said he saw the Crisp vehicle approaching and was afraid it would crash into the rear of his pickup but he could not change lanes as there was another vehicle in the lane beside him. Gornik said he pulled to the right as far as he could but as Crisp passed him his right front bumper sideswiped Gornik's pickup.

Crisp then veered to the left and into a left turn lane where he collided with an eastbound vehicle driven by Arthur Joe Dawson who was waiting to turn.

Hollister and rolled over.

Twin Falls county sheriff's officers said Highway 93 was traveling south on Highway 93 about 5 a.m. when his vehicle went out of control and dropped off the right hand edge of the pavement. The pickup traveled a short distance in the borrowpit and he brought it back on the highway. He then went back into the borrowpit twice before the vehicle hit a fence post and rolled over, coming to rest on another fence post.

Officers said he was taken to Magic Valley Memorial Hospital by ambulance and treated for head cuts and other possible injuries.

Anti-Iranian demonstrations break out in Boise area

By MARK SHENEFELT
BOISE (UPI) — About three-dozen anti-Iran demonstrators marched in front of the Boise federal building Friday, most of them carrying signs supporting the U.S. government or urging an economic blockade against Iran.

Braving near-freezing temperatures under a breezy, overcast sky, the protesters shouted their frustration over the plight of the American hostages in the U.S. Embassy at Tehran.

"The Iranians hate America — they hate all of us," screamed one middle-aged blond woman waving a miniature American flag. "And their women are worse than their men."

Many of the demonstrators were college-age, although there were about a half-dozen others. An elderly man and woman carried signs saying, "Iran is the pits — they can kiss our grits."

"No food for terrorism," "Stop food sales and shipments to Iran," "Food for Cambodia, not Iran," and "Rhinein, eat your oil," some of the placards said.

Bert Hansen, 25, the owner of a Boise wine shop, said he chose to join the protest because he was "tired of sitting at home and fuming about everything."

"I'm sick and tired of apologizing for being an American," he said. "We just wanted to get out and show people how we feel."

"We need to show them we won't give in to blackmail," he said.

The best thing the U.S. could do, Hansen said, would be to "expose" the Russians' supposed part in the seizure and bring a total economic blockade against Iran to force Iranian authorities to release the hostages.

Steve O'Connell, 43, Boise, said such action "is worth the risk" of possible harm to the hostages.

Safety award entries sought

BOISE — In order to recognize large and small firms in Idaho that can qualify to receive a safety award, the 1980 Biennial Governor's State Wide Safety Conference is now accepting entries from firms in agricultural and nonagricultural classifications with qualifying accident-free work records.

A three-member judging committee will make safety program evaluations and select award winners in each of three sections for 13 classifications. The three sections cover firms with under 50 employees, under 150 employees and over 150 employees, in order to equalize weighted scoring between firms of approximately the same size.

Individual classifications for judging include agriculture, heavy and light construction, educational institutions, government, health care, heavy and light manufacturing, open pit and underground mining, other industries, transportation and utilities.

PUC ruling favors car pools

BOISE (UPI) — A complaint by the Caldwell School & Charter Bus Co., Inc., against two persons operating carpools between Nampa and Boise was dismissed Friday by the Idaho Public Utilities Commission.

The firm filed a complaint against Francis Pearce and Robert Webber, both of whom operate carpools from Nampa to Boise and return, claiming they are required to obtain a carrier from the PUC.

The commission found, however, it has no jurisdiction over the two pools because neither one "is engaged in a transportation service with intent to financially profit directly or indirectly."

Commissioners said this condition, as stated in the former PUC order, must be met before the commission asserts authority over a motor carrier.

Buhl teacher plays first role in movie he wrote himself

By BEN McKELWAY
Times-News writer

TWIN FALLS — Next week Buhl High School drama students will have a chance to turn the tables on their teacher, Steven Anderson.

They can rate his acting ability when they go to see "2 Catch 2," a movie opening Thursday at Twin Falls and Jerome theaters. Anderson is the star.

And while they're at it, they can give him a grade in writing as well. He wrote the story and the screenplay.

At 29, Anderson may just be on the brink of a successful career in films. Teaching in Provo, Utah, last fall, he was approached by a friend who had been hired to direct the first movie for the newly formed American West Cinema Corp. Asked to write the script, he jumped at the chance. Since he was approached by a friend who had been hired to direct the first movie for the newly formed American West Cinema Corp. Asked to write the script, he jumped at the chance. Since he was approached by a friend who had been hired to direct the first movie for the newly formed American West Cinema Corp. Asked to write the script, he jumped at the chance.

Anderson had himself in mind when he created one of the main characters, straight man Winston Murbank. Pepper, Murbank's playful sidekick, was modeled after his college buddy, Sam DiBello, an actor who has been in four comedy skits on television specials. Sure enough, they were both hired for the roles.

A graduate of Brigham Young University in Provo, Anderson majored in play-writing. He got his acting experience in his spare time, with Provo's Lighthouse Repertory Theater.

DiBello was only one of many local Provo actors Anderson drew into the production of "2 Catch 2."

We were so low-budget that we couldn't afford to get big-name stars," Anderson explains. "So I just asked my friends to play the roles."

The movie's crew was so small that when he wasn't acting he was holding the microphone, he said. After helping with the film's editing this summer, Anderson moved to Buhl to teach speech and drama. With his wife Diane and his two children, ages 2 and 4 months, he is waiting to see how the film is received. It premiered in Provo two weeks ago and will open in Salt Lake City Tuesday. And it will run concurrently throughout Idaho; most of the outdoor scenes were shot along the Salmon River.

If the film goes over, there will be a second film, and probably a third. Anderson wants to stay close enough to northern Utah to keep working with Russell Hansen, the producer. He says Hansen, who started the movie company as an offshoot of Fox West, an Oregon-based over-expedition firm, shares his commitment to "decent family entertainment" without violence or sexual innuendo.

The film was given a "PG" (parental guidance suggested) rating because it contains a murder plot, Anderson explained. Except for Walt Disney films, a "G" rating is "the kiss of death," he said.

For someone waiting for that big break, knowing the next few months could shape his future, Anderson is incredibly easy-going. His calm is built on a foundation of self-confidence.

Although he enjoys both, he prefers writing over acting.

"An actor has so much competition that he has to pound the pavement," he said. "But if you're a writer you can sit at home and let the royalties come in."

"I'd like to make it as a writer, but that's nothing to bank on. It's about as sure as making it in Las Vegas."

He has always had a special interest in comedy, and as a child all he could do to make his friends laugh.

"They say that it's easier to make people cry than to make them laugh," he said.

Anderson will receive a percentage of the film's profits.

"We haven't seen a dime yet," says Mrs. Anderson, who would rather not live on a teacher's salary forever.

"It's poverty," she said.

To make ends meet, she cooks at a nursing home on the weekends. Anderson has been milking cows before school for extra income.

Anderson started college with the idea of becoming a chemical engineer. He likes to tell the story of how he changed his mind. He was spending three hours every night struggling over his calculus problems. "The night before a test, he visited a classmate who said he would spend a half-hour or so looking over the lessons. The next day the friend put on an 'A.' Anderson got a 'D.'"

"I saw the writing on the wall," Anderson said.

Now, years later, he has laughed a whole new career. This time he says it feels right. And he is hoping for high marks.

New Ketchum art gallery opens

KETCHUM — The Belson-Brown Gallery, newest home of the arts and crafts in a community heavily laden with such, is open in Ketchum with a new twist.

The gallery is open to the public at no cost. All arts and crafts are available for sale, but the thrust is to expose the community to a full scope of qualified artists.

The art ranges from the mural on the outside wall of the building to the crafted metal sculpture to the stained glass windows of the gallery. Inside are more traditional art pieces that you can buy and carry with you.

Photographic art by Nathan Lyons and ceramic work by Richard Shaw, both leaders in their field, will be on display. Metal work, sculpting, and easel paintings are also available for purchase from local artists. The display changes monthly.

According to Ken Brunton, gallery affiliate, the gallery welcomes the purchase of art pieces but its goal is to expose the community to a full scope of qualified artists. They feel they cannot become so exclusive that they limit their audience, but rather hope to appeal to a broad base of interest.

To that end, the first family day is being held this Sunday to encourage all ages to visit the gallery. Refreshments will be served and the gallery directors will be on hand to discuss the art work.

QUESTION...

I am saving several government bonds as a burial fund. Can I have those bonds put into your name for this purpose?

ANSWER...

Series E and Series H Bonds may be titled only three ways, and making them payable to you for your burial is not an approved form of registration. Bonds may be registered in your name alone, in your name with a joint owner, or in your name, payable upon your death to a beneficiary.

There is no way Series E or Series H Bonds can be positively earmarked for funeral purposes. If they are titled in your name alone, the funds will eventually be expended for funeral purposes through your estate, but this would subject them to the costs of probate.

Since you have acquired these bonds for funeral purposes, it would be wise to discuss with us your plan on an alternative which would work better for you.

Heisman candidates make their pitch today

By United Press International
With All-American football selections just around the bend, candidates for the glamour offensive positions get in some of their last legs today in an effort to persuade voters their credentials stand out above all others.

Billy Sims, 1978 Heisman Trophy winner and leading scorer in the nation this year with 126 points on 21 touchdowns, would need a Herculean effort in Oklahoma's final two games to even approach his 1,762 yards rushing last year. Sims has 977 yards going into Saturday's game against Missouri.

Other running backs seeking to improve their image include George Rogers of South Carolina, the nation's No. 2 rusher with 1,342 yards and a 149.1 average, going against No. 17 Wake-Forest; Vagas Ferguson of Notre Dame, the fourth leading ground gainer with 1,150 yards and a 127.8 average, trying his luck against No. 14 Clemson and Jarvis Redwine of No. 2 Nebraska needing 48 yards to reach Iowa State to reach 1,000 yards.

Charles White of idle fourth-ranked Southern California is the nation's leading rusher with 1,069 yards and a 178.8 average. Others who have reached 1,000 yards this year and the teams they play Saturday are Freeman McNeil of UCLA, 1,112 yards, going against Oregon; Joe Morris of Syracuse, 1,273, playing Boston College; James Haden of Texas Tech, 1,131, facing Southern Methodist; Dennis Mosley of Iowa, 1,131, meeting Nebraska; and Floyd Allen, 1,121, against Virginia Tech.

The top five quarterbacks—in the nation—are Brian Broomfield of Temple, who takes a 172.3 rating against Penn State; Turk Schoenert of Stanford trying to improve on his 17 scoring passes when he meets California; Paul McDonald of Southern Cal; Marc Wilson of 10th ranked Brigham Young, the only signal caller who has passed for 3,000 yards this season, who will face Utah, and Art Schlichter trying to pass No. 3 Ohio State into the Rose Bowl by beating No. 13 Michigan Saturday.

The only pass catcher to top 1,000 yards in receptions is Rick Beasley of Appalachian State, who closes out his season against Marshall. Beasley has caught a high of 60 passes and a nation leading 11 TD throws. Steve Cury of Oregon State has snared 66 passes in nine games for 721 yards and a leading 6.2 receptions a game. Arizona is his next opponent.

Rounding out the top five NCAA receivers are James Murphy of Utah State, playing Weber State; Gerald Harp of Western Carolina, which plays East Tennessee State, and Mike House, who completed his season with Pacific.

Top 10 teams playing today find No. 1 Alabama vs. Miami (Fla.), No. 2 Nebraska vs. Iowa State, No. 3 Ohio State vs. Michigan, No. 4 Florida State vs. Memphis State, No. 5 Texas vs. Texas Christian, No. 7 Oklahoma vs. Missouri, No. 9 Arkansas vs. Texas A.M., and No. 10 Brigham Young vs. Utah.

Fourth-ranked Southern Cal and No. 8 Houston are idle.

Meyers UCLA star signs multi-year contract

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ann Meyers, who went through a one-week trial with the Indiana Pacers of the NBA before being cut, signed a multi-year contract Friday to play for the New Jersey Gems of the Women's Basketball League.

After a five-hour meeting in New York with Gems president Robert Milo and Meyers' agent, James Griffin, the Gems announced that Meyers, the first woman ever to sign an NBA contract, will be in uniform when New Jersey opens the season Saturday night.

"Everyone is pleased with what has taken place," said Milo, who took control of the Gems a month ago. "Bringing Ann Meyers to the WBL is our contribution to the future generation of women's sports in America."

The exact terms of Meyers' contract were not disclosed although a club official said it was in the six-figure range. The average salary among WBL players is $10,000-$15,000. Meyers, 24, caused a stir among the basketball ranks when she was drafted by the Pacers and was signed to a $50,000 a year contract. After one week of training camp she was cut.

... signs contract

from the team, but Indiana owner Sam Nassi kept her on as a broadcaster for the club.

With the signing of Meyers by the Gems, the Pacers have been relieved of all commitments to the sister of Milwaukee Bucks forward Dave Meyers.

"I'm very excited to be with New Jersey," Meyers said Thursday night before the official signing took place. "I'm looking forward to playing with this team and I hope we get a lot of support."

Meyers was originally drafted by the WBL's Houston Angels and, one month ago, the New York Stars attempted to sign her but the deal fell through. The Gems are working out arrangements for a deal to satisfy Houston for signing Meyers.

Meyers played for Coach Billie Moore at UCLA and led the Bruins to the AIAW championship in 1977 and 1978. In her four years at UCLA, the Bruins compiled a record of 86-14.

"She's a complete ballplayer who was a real leader for us and one of the key factors in leading us to the national championship," said Moore of her four-time All American. "I'm very pleased to hear that Meyers is joining the New Jersey Gems and all of us at UCLA wish her success. She's a leader and I hope she can help the WBL on the road to great year."

The Gems finished last year's season at 9-25, the worst record in the eight-team league. The WBL has expanded to 14 teams this season.

Two weeks of Piuskin Picks during the regular season remain. It appears in today's Times-News.

Viking on reserves

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) — Minnesota cornerback Nate Wright was placed on the injured reserve list Friday with a cracked bone in his arm suffered in the Vikings' 19-7 loss last week to Green Bay.

The Vikings said Friday John Turner will start at left cornerback and Bobby Bryant at right cornerback in Sunday's game with the Detroit Lions.

The Vikings activated defensive tackle Steve Niehaus from the injured reserve list Thursday to replace Wright on the team's roster.

Martin takes PBA lead

DEERFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — Third-year pro Steve Martin bypassed three opponents Friday to become the fourth bowler to take the lead in the $130,000 PBA Memorial Open.

Martin of Kingsport, Tenn., started the round in fourth-place, 157 pins behind leader Marshall Holman, and jumped into first place Friday after six rounds of play.

The 21-year-old right-hander began Friday's round with games of 228, 225, 256, and 250, winning each match in the Memorial World Open. After losing with scores of 202 and 253, the 1977 PBA Rookie of the Year won his last two games with scores of 197 and 239.

Martin has 11,341 for 48 games and is averaging 239 for the entire tournament. He is 53 pins ahead of Ed Ressler of Bethlehem, Pa., who averaged 228 for the round but won only three of eight games.

Jim Plessinger of State College, Pa., looking for his first career PBA title, remained in third place with 1,247.

Holman, of Bedford, Ore., dropped from the lead to fourth place after losing five matches, including his last game, 300-222, to Mike Berlin of Muscatine, Iowa. Holman is 131 pins behind the lead at 11,210.

Louis Moore of Indianapolis rounds out the top five at 11,082.

Marquette star at fault

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Marquette basketball center Dean Marquardt failed to exercise ordinary care in a car, contributing to an accident Aug. 26 in which Charlie Weber, 21, Milwaukee, was killed, according to a coroner's jury.

The jury also ruled Marquardt was speeding at the time and recommended he be cited by the district attorney's office for speeding and failure to exercise ordinary care.

Jurors also found Kenneth Kuklinski, who struck Marquardt's car, was speeding and contributed to the accident. The jury, however, did not make a recommendation regarding Kuklinski and said the district attorney should decide whether or not a charge should be issued against him.

Kentucky, Duke open

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UPI) — Kentucky and Duke, two teams expected to be in the thick of the chase for the NCAA basketball title, open the college season Saturday in the first annual Hall of Fame Tournament.

It will be their first meeting since the 1978 NCAA finals, where the Wildcats prevailed 94-88. In the pre-season poll, Kentucky is ranked fifth. The Blue Devils are a no-flyer.

Kentucky has beaten Duke in 10 of 12 meetings. The game, held in the city which claims to be the birthplace of basketball, will be nationally televised with the tipoff scheduled for 7 p.m. EST.

The five-time NCAA champion Wildcats, 19-12 last season, return seven lettermen and four starters, including All-American guard Kyle Macy. They also had a banner recruiting year, grabbing 7-foot-1 center Sam Bowie of Lebanon, Pa. Bowie, Macy, forwards LaVon Williams and Fred Cowan, and guard Dwight Anderson are expected to start for coach Joe B. Hall.

"We have so many new faces on our squad and we know we're facing a veteran Duke team," said Hall.

NASCAR race

Yarborough captures pole spot

ONTARIO, Calif. (UPI) — Gale Yarborough grabbed the pole position Friday for Sunday's Los Angeles Times 500 NASCAR Grand National stock car race, powering his 1977 Oldsmobile around the Ontario Motor Speedway track at 154,902 mph.

In addition to gaining the No. 1 starting position for the Grand National, Yarborough, of Timmonsville, S.C., qualified to join 11 other drivers in the $150,000 Pole Clash at Daytona, Fla., next February.

Darrell Waltrip of Charlotte, N.C., leads Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., by two points in the Grand National standings entering Sunday's race. Petty, shooting for an unprecedented seventh Grand National title, was the fifth fastest qualifier Friday, turning in a lap of 153,580 mph. Waltrip was 10th at 151,247 mph.

"I ran it to the limit," said Yarborough. "I gave it all I had. I've had a lot of mental pressure and it kept building up with each race. We all wanted to win the pole to qualify for the Pole Clash."

"Ontario is the only track where I've never won."

Taking the No. 2 starting position was Benny Parsons of Elberton, N.C., at 153,759 mph, followed by Bobby Allison of Hueytown, Ala., at 153,709 mph and Buddy Baker of Charlotte at 153,688.

Sixth was rookie Dale Earnhardt of Charlotte at 153,426 mph followed by Ricky Rudd of Chesapeake, Va., at 153,271 mph and Donnie Allison of Hueytown at 153,187 mph. Waltrip and rookie Joe Millikan of Randleman (150,804 mph) rounded out the top 10.

Other qualifiers, in order, were Buck Simmons of Baldwin, Ga., Dick Brooks of Porterville, Calif., Jimmy Insale of Mission Hills, Calif., Bill Schmitt of Redding, Calif., Randy Orden of Woodward, Okla., Bruce Hill and Ronnie Thomas of Christiansburg, Va.

A final qualifying session was slated for Saturday morning with 18 additional spots open.

"Congratulations!" said North in his most sarcastic manner. "You just tied the world record for chucking a lay-down game."

"What could I have done?" asked South.

"We can't give North's answer, but will explain in printable language."

THE TOTALLY NEW 1980 SUBARU IS HERE NOW...

at THE GUYS THAT MAKE IT CANYON MOTORS
363 Second Avenue South 734-8860

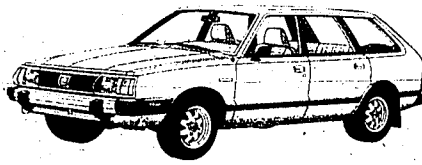

SUBARU TAKES U.S. SKI TEAM TO NEW HEIGHTS: To make it to the top, members of the United States Ski Team rely upon the ruggedly reliable Subaru Four-Wheel-Drive Station Wagon. The official car of both the United States Ski Association (the national governing body for ski competition in the U.S.) and United States Ski Team (competitive arm of the USSA), the 1980 Subaru DL 4WD wagon provides driver and passengers with outstanding traction and off-road capabilities. Shown above with the 1980 model at the official USSA car, are skiers Cindy Nelson, Phil Mahre, Steve Mahre and Christin Cooper.

THE 1980 SUBARU FOUR DOOR GL AND DL SEDANS feature the company's trend-setting front-wheel-drive design perfectly matched to a smooth-running, economical four-cylinder engine. The new, larger SUBARU SEDANS offer increased passenger comfort and space, a quieter ride, a totally redesigned driver's seat and instrument panel, improved rust protection and excellent fuel economy.

THE 1980 SUBARU GLF HARDTOP is the best-equipped, most luxurious of all 1980 Subaru models. The new, larger 1980 Subaru Hardtops offer increased passenger space and comfort, a quieter ride and a totally redesigned driver's cockpit and instrument panel that includes tachometer, voltmeter, oil pressure gauge and low fuel warning light. It also offers an AM/FM radio, digital clock and instrument wipers.

THE 1980 SUBARU STATION WAGONS — models that include the world's only four-wheel-drive passenger vehicles with full-time front-wheel-drive — are among the most stylish and technologically advanced economy wagons sold in America. The Subaru GL 4WD wagon, made roomier, quieter and even more efficient for 1980, features a unique grill-mounted running light for better nighttime visibility in off-road situations. The new longer and wider Subaru DL station wagon features full independent suspension which, combined with front-wheel drive, makes it one of the best handling 4 WD vehicles available.
